Dear Boom baum, Im sorry
you lost two in a row.
I feel sad that you lost your game and you are 0-2 and ~~might~~ might get relegated from lana
straw premiere league
Maybe you should make some trades? From love

daughter

0-2. AND THE NOTES ARE ALREADY IN.

Eden Banner wrote Boom a letter. Otter posted it Tuesday morning, with the breakfast video.
Last in points. The minimum, he had already said, was 45 trades.

WEEK 2

WAS THAT A REAL TRADE?!

The Kickers n Jigba landed Bijan. The Shiny Hineys left Atlanta. Both clubs woke up 2-0. The poll did not.

THE BLOCKBUSTER · THURSDAY, SEPT. 17

Boom Baum asked it at 8:20 p.m. Thursday, in a room that was not the trade channel. “Holy hell. Was that a real trade?!” Eleven seconds later, in the trade channel, he answered himself. “Holy shit.”

The Shiny Hineys had paid $69 for Bijan Robinson at the auction, then watched him score 27.3 in a Week 1 win, 93.56 to 90.50 over Backdoor Heat. Thursday night they shipped him. The Kickers n Jigba took Bijan, Chris Olave and Zach Charbonnet. The Hineys walked back with Davante Adams, Javonte Williams, Braelon Allen and Garrett Wilson. The bot forgot a leg. The Hineys did not. “the bot forgot the $5 FAAB Rob gave me. Really made the trade.”

That afternoon the bot had posted S05 EP03, Week 1 Dont Overreact (I’m Going to Overreact). The guest was the Guy Next Door, who had already failed the assignment on his own Week 1. On the pod he said he had told himself, out loud, more than once, “I’m not going to overreact.” The Bijan deal arrived after the episode. It was not his trade. It followed the title anyway.

Boom Baum, Sept. 18, to the Scott Ramsays: “congrats on the catch... Now trade with me.” Eight reactions.

“He’s Gumby. The most durable RB I’ve ever seen. I’m also tired of watching Falcon games.”

SHINY HINEYS · THURSDAY, SEPT. 17, 8:55 P.M.

Nine minutes after that: “Fading the reigning MVP is certainly a choice.” Fart Toot Squeek had already answered, at 8:52 p.m.

“it feels like your relationship with Bijan is a love/hate thing. That’s the only way I can make sense of you shipping him away year after year”

FART TOOT SQUEEK · TO THE SHINY HINEYS · THURSDAY, SEPT. 17, 8:52 P.M.

Boom wanted the same treatment. At 8:37 p.m. he told the Jigba, “your my new favorite to win it all.” Friday afternoon he asked the Hineys, “can you give me all your good players like you did Rob?”

Sunday settled the week and left the poll open. No final tally survived. Adams scored 36.5 from the Hineys’ flex. Bijan scored 9.6 in his Jigba debut, started. Charbonnet scored 0.0 on the injured list. Olave scored 18.6. Josh Allen scored 43.82 and Jaxon Smith-Njigba scored 40.0 on the same Jigba roster. The Hineys beat Boom Baum 112.32 to 89.22. The Jigba beat the Scott Ramsays 144.62 to 76.68. Both clubs are 2-0. The Jigba leads the Premier at 324.5 points for. Sunday night the Hineys named the Boom matchup. “Your weekly pillow fight sponsored by Boom Baum and Shiny Hineys.”

WEEK 2

THE NOTES ARE ALREADY IN

Boom Baum is 0-2 and last in points. He set the season's minimum at 45 trades. Otter's daughter answered on paper.

BOOM BAUM · OTTER · SEPT. 21 TO 22

Monday at 3:50 p.m., Boom Baum entered a number. "I just wanna say the low amount of trades this season is really impacting my mental health. I need to meet a minimum of 45 trades a season for it to be successful."

The Premier log, with the Guy Next Door deal counted once, holds six trades. Four of them have Boom on a side: the draft-weekend swaps with All Gold, No Glory, the Diamond Dogs and Texas Tornado's Bush, then Drake London and Dylan Sampson to the Guy Next Door for Caleb Williams and Tetairoa McMillan. After Thursday's Bijan deal, the board went quiet on him. Sunday he scored 89.22 and fell to 0-2. Two weeks of points for: 188.0, last in the Premier. Caleb Williams, the quarterback he had just acquired, started and scored 7.22. Tetairoa McMillan scored 13.6. Drake London, now next door, scored 6.9.

The pod on Thursday had already walked that London deal for a long stretch of the back half. The Guy Next Door had made it off a Week 1 he had promised himself not to chase. Sunday did not vindicate either side in the box score. London scored 6.9. Caleb Williams scored 7.22. The next Premier trade was somebody else's.

BY THE NUMBERS · BOOM BAUM

0-2. 188.0 points for, last in the Premier. Six Premier trades in the log, four with his name on a side. The minimum he wrote down is 45. Week 2 score: 89.22. Caleb Williams in the new deal: 7.22.

"My daughter Eden wrote a very sweet, compassionate, and consoling letter to Boom Baum in light of his season starting unfortunately. Here is the letter and him reading it this morning at breakfast."

OTTER · TUESDAY, SEPT. 22, 8:35 A.M.

The still drew eight reactions. The breakfast clip drew eleven, including the league's own loser stamp. Otter's Champeens club was 2-0, on 252.8 points, first in that flight. His knockout club was already gone. The Otter is Jackin Goff scored 62.02 in Week 2, last among the clubs still scoring, and left. The letter about an 0-2 season went up the next morning from a franchise that had won one league and been chopped from the other.

Upstairs, Otter had started both pieces the Premier had just split. Davante Adams scored 36.5 in the flex. Bijan Robinson scored 9.6 at running back, the same 9.6 the Jigba got. Otter beat OKC Schlegstas 112.66 to 90.86. The consolation was for Boom. The week, on Otter's other roster, had already ended.

The catch, and the ask

Friday, Boom had posted the fish and tagged the Scott Ramsays. "congrats on the catch.... Now trade with me." Eight reactions. The trade did not come. By press time the Premier log was still those six deals. The minimum on the record is 45. The gap is 39, and the notes were already in.

WEEK 2

THE YEAR THAT STARTED EARLY

Fart Toot Squeek installed 2027's kicker scoring in 2026, said the correction would flip a Champeens game, and then went to 0-2.

THE APOLOGY · MONDAY NIGHT, SEPT. 15

Change it NOW.

Straw"

Fart Toot Squeek · Monday, Sept. 15, 9:50 p.m. · 8 reactions

At 9:50 p.m. Monday, Fart Toot Squeek told the whole server. Eight reactions. On Thursday's pod the same franchise called it "the big screw up of updating the kicker scoring."

COMMISSIONER'S STATEMENT

"@everyone I regret to inform y'all that I've made a grave mistake. For those who aren't aware at our Rules Round Table at the draft weekend we voted to change the kicker scoring starting in 2027(decreasing made 40yd+ and 50yd+ FGs by 1pt). I totally forgot about the delayed onset of the rule change and implemented it this season. Y'all will see it change some scores slightly and much to my chagrin it will flip the outcome of Jerry GM and Dave Ten Haves game. I'm going to do some push ups, run 10 40s, and keep my head on a swivel so this never happens again. My deepest apologies Lana

At 10:01 p.m. Jerry GM + Jerry Owner answered, six reactions behind it. "We respect your honesty and openness in this difficult time."

The push-ups and the ten 40s were the sentence he gave himself. The season gave him the belt. Week 1 the Jigba had hung 179.86 on him. He answered Tuesday night by sending Jaylen Warren, Rashee Rice and Dallas Goedert to Backdoor Heat for Jaylen Waddle, Colston Loveland and Tyler Allgeier. Sunday, Waddle scored 18.8 in a loss. Loveland scored 0.8. Heat won 119.36 to 78.50. The champion is 0-2, on 215.4 points, one spot and 2.9 points behind the Little Bread Boi, who holds the wild card.

Change It NOW

The franchise ESPN listed as Thomas's Terrific Team on the Week 1 card is the Scott Ramsays now. Thursday at 10:00 p.m. that club told H Town Holy Rollers it had outscored them. "I outscored youuuu." Twenty-two seconds later: "I want your name to be 'The Little Bread Boi'." Nine seconds after that: "Change it NOW."

H Town supplied the margin. "First week score - 99.54-98.3." The match record has those scores: the Scott Ramsays 99.54 in a win over the Guy Next Door, H Town 98.30 in a loss to Texas Tornado's Bush. They did not play each other. The difference is 1.24, which H Town also filed as "<1.5 pts." Amburgers asked what the NCT was. That was the answer. The name on the club Sunday was the Little Bread Boi.

"Well, you are the LITTLE bread boi."

THE SCOTT RAMSAYS · THURSDAY, SEPT. 17, 10:18 P.M.

Cowboys September Dreams, from the side, offered the bakery its other name. "ah, a Pain de Boom." Sunday, All Gold, No Glory beat the Little Bread Boi 152.14 to 119.98, the high score of either flight. Jared Goff scored 33.78 on the Bread Boi bench. Matthew Stafford started and scored 30.48. Swapping them gets the club to 123.28. All Gold still wins by 28.86. The bench had the better quarterback. It did not have the better team. The bakery is 0-2, holds the wild card at 218.3 points for, and sits ninth by record.

ON THE AIRWAVES

DON'T OVERREACT

S05 EP03 on Thursday, guest the Guy Next Door. S05 EP04 arrived this morning: Hot Starts and Hot Sharts. A note, and no transcript.

THE LEAGUE OF RECORD · SEPT. 17, 2026 · GUEST, THE GUY NEXT DOOR

The episode's title was a pair of instructions, and the guest reached it in the opening minutes.

“I said out loud to myself multiple times, I’m not going to overreact.”

THE GUY NEXT DOOR · ON THE POD · SEPT. 17

He had already made the London deal. The hosts spent the back half walking it: Drake London and Dylan Sampson one way, Caleb Williams and Tetairoa McMillan the other. Fart Toot Squeek, hosting, used the same hour on the kicker. He called the early scoring change the big screw up. Jerry GM + Jerry Owner, in the podcast channel at 11:56 a.m., filed the review before the bot posted the link. “Episode is electric.” And, of the guest: “John’s brain works in a way that I’m jealous of. Incredible work on side projects for the league. The magazine and Bot are so so cool.”

The bot posted EP03 at 2:30 p.m. The Bijan trade hit at 8:20 p.m.

The new letterhead. The Little Bread Boi is already on it.

S05 EP04 · THURSDAY, SEPT. 24, 10:00 A.M.

Hot Starts and Hot Sharts. The bot posted the link. No transcript file had landed, and the episode catalog still ends at S05 EP02 on Sept. 3. The note names Fart Toot Squeek, Amburgers, and a guest, the Kickers n Jigba. It says the hour went at the Bijan deal, the $10 empty tight end, a quiet Premier trade log, and the Bread Bois.

Knockout, and the card

Week 2 in the knockout, last place leaves. Glory Burgers 138.32 led the week. Robert’s Rowdy Team scored 127.08. The Otter is Jackin Goff scored 62.02 and was eliminated. Fart Toot Sneak had already left in Week 1 and scored 0.00. Cowboys September Farts survived on 65.20, 3.18 points ahead of the club that left.

WEEK 3 CARD · PAIRINGS ONLY, NOT A FINAL

Premier. Boom Baum vs Fart Toot Squeek. Jigba vs Guy Next Door. All Gold vs Diamond Dogs. Heat vs the Scott Ramsays. Hineys vs Texas Tornado. Bread Boi vs Jackin’ Goff.

Champeens. Dreams vs Chase Is My Leader. Prime Lime vs Jerry. Amburgers vs the Jackal. Mac vs Madison Beer. Jordan vs OKC. Neaux Gold vs Otter.

Point After

Six Premier trades are in the log. The number Boom wrote down on Monday was 45. Tuesday morning the letter was already on the table.

THE LANA STRAW LEDGER · Week 2, 2026 · Press time Sept. 24. Week 2 finals from the live match record, Premier and Champeens, plus the knockout’s Week 2 scores. Standings are won-lost from those scores, not from any stored record. The trade log supplied the deals; the Guy Next Door and Boom Baum row is stored twice and counted once, and the knockout’s Hampton deal is stored twice, cash on the Friday row only. Quotes are as typed on Discord, or as transcribed on the S05 EP03 file. The pod line above is the guest’s; the transcript’s host, where he is quoted, is Fart Toot Squeek. Suspect stretches of that file were left out. EP03 is not in the episode catalog. EP04 is the Sept. 24 Discord post only. Times are America/Chicago. Nothing here is a lineup.
